CMA and Craig Ranch POA Forge Partnership

Plano, TX – CMA has announced a new contract to manage the Property Owners Association of Craig Ranch Community Association. The award-winning master planned community in McKinney, Texas, is a commercial and residential mixed-use development community of more than 4200 homes complemented by retail, health care and senior living. Craig Ranch is noted for its health-focused lifestyle, including hiking and biking trails and tennis courts, family friendly amenities, such as parks and swimming pools and a sustainable climate for vibrant business growth.

“We feel CMA has the experience and expertise to help make our vision of Craig Ranch 2.0 a reality,” said Stephanie Miller, Board President of Craig Ranch POA. “CMA’s culture and people embody the change that was necessary to move this community forward.”

Already an established brand in McKinney, CMA manages over 35 communities in the area, including Stonebridge Ranch Community Association, which the company has managed for more than 30 years. Long a choice of discriminating homeowners seeking to protect their property values, CMA has earned a reputation for excellent service and reliability. An industry leader in association management, RTI, Community Management Associates Inc., “CMA” is headquartered in Plano, Texas. The company has three regional offices and numerous on-site locations providing contract management services for more than 250 residential, mixed-use, townhome and commercial communities.

“We’re excited to have been chosen by the Craig Ranch board for this partnership,” said Judi Phares, President and CEO of CMA. “We’re confident that CMA delivers the whole package-- the best people and the finest management practices in our industry, to serve this exceptional community.”
